REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

A Republican County Convention will be held at the Court House in the city of Janesville, on the 13th day of September, 1882, at 12 o'clock noon, to nominate candidates for county officers. The several towns and wards will be entitled to delegates as follows: Avon, Beloit, Bradford, Center, Harmony, Janesville, Johnstown, La Prairie, Lima, Magnolia, Newark, Plymouth, Porter, Rock, Spring Valley, Turtle, the Second, Third and Fourth Wards of the city of Beloit, and Fifth Ward of the city of Janesville two each; the First Ward of the city of Beloit three; Clinton, Fulton, Union, Milton, the Second and Third Wards of the city of Janesville four each; the First and Fourth Wards of the city of Janesville five each.

It is hard to convict a full pocket-book by a Washington jury.

The Congressional prize in the Second district couldn't induce Judge A. Scott Sloan to leave the circuit bench.

Dorsey's and Brady's pocket-books had a powerful weight with the jury—a great deal more weight than Brewster's eloquence.

The greatest puzzle is the West Bend Convention. It is all the more a puzzle because a Democratic Convention has held out so long.

It is predicted by Senator Plumb, of Kansas, that within ten years every outstanding government bond will be redeemed. At a decrease of sixteen millions a month, like that of August, the debt would be wiped out in that time.

The leading Republican candidate for Governor of Nebraska, is James W. Dawes, who formerly lived in this State. Wisconsin is doing well in furnishing gubernatorial material for other States. It has already furnished one each for California and Colorado.

If the star route jury had the Congressional matter at West Bend, in charge they would have settled the question long ago if either side had made a bid for their votes. The signs of the times are not so bad after all when we find a Democratic convention more honest than a jury.

A young lady, Clara Eckstein, of Peru, Indiana, had been troubled with some spinal complaint for a number of years. Lightning struck the house recently and severely scorched and shocked her. She has completely recovered from the spinal complaint by the electric fluid. It would hardly be safe to try such a remedy a second time.

The Republican convention at Monroe, which selected delegates to the Congressional Convention, resolved that the best interest of the Republican party demanded the election of a representative to Congress other than George Hazelton. Congressman Hazelton is certainly having a rugged road to a nomination for a fourth term.

When Mr. Blaine was making a speech in Maine some ten days ago, he challenged any Democrat in the United States "to name a bill or resolve which had been presented by the Democratic party in the Congress of the United States for the amelioration of any human woe or for the advancement of any good during the last twenty years." Not a Democrat has been heard from who has the courage to accept the challenge.

There is a scheme on foot in Kansas to defeat Governor St. John, and the movement is supported by some 20,000 kicking Republicans, 60,000 Democrats, 18,000 Greenbackers, and 20,000 anti-prohibition Germans. The elements unite on an independent candidate, and go solidly against St. John. But such a combination cannot be made strong enough to defeat him. A State that has built nearly a thousand miles of railway in one year, and whose corn crop will reach 200,000,000 bushels, will not go crazy enough to elect a fusion ticket.

The reunion of the Army of the Cumberland will be held in Milwaukee, on the 19th, 20th and 21st inst., and ex-Confederate soldiers are invited to attend. After the address of welcome, which will be responded to by Lieutenant General Phil. H. Sheridan, the president of the society, the annual oration will be delivered by General C. H. Grosvenor, of Athens, Ohio. The oration will be followed by a eulogy of the late President Garfield by General Jacob D. Cox, of Cincinnati. The annual banquet of the society will be given on September 20th, in the Soldiers' Home, just outside the city limits.

Edward Breiting, of Negaunee, was nominated by the Republicans in the Eleventh Michigan district, to succeed Jay A. Hubbell. Hubbell is a candidate for the Senate, but secretly hoped to be nominated for Congress, that he might have a sure thing of it. His defeat is a well-merited rebuke. Madison Democrat.

A man cannot very well be defeated when he is not a candidate. Several months ago Mr. Hubbell announced that he was not a candidate for renomination, and consequently did not go before the Convention. He would like to go to the Senate, but it may safely be predicted that the Michigan Legislature will never select Jay Hubbell to succeed such a man as Senator Ferry.

Blaine and his Republican co-workers have redeemed their pledges, when they said they would crush the fusion ticket in Maine. That State has been swept by the Republicans, Robie being elected by a large majority, both branches of the Legislature will be Republican, and four Republican Congressmen have been elected. The result is as cheering as the victory is sanguine. Blaine has done more hard work to bring about this result, than any other man in the State. His speeches were a masterly rebuke of the fusion government, and everywhere the people flocked by thousands to hear him. Now that he and the Republican party have redeemed the State from the rule of Democratic-Greenbackism, let the people rejoice and give three cheers for Blaine and his friends. This is one of the crowning triumphs of his political career, and he should have the applause of the people.

The nomination of the Hon. William A. Lawrence by the Prohibitionists for State Senator is among the many strange acts of the temperance party. The Republican Senatorial Convention adopted a resolution in favor of a submission of a prohibitory amendment to the people, and Dr. Lord would be in duty bound to support such a proposition. But in the face of this fact, the Prohibitionists put up a candidate against him, and will work for the defeat of the Republican nominee! There is not much consistency in this course, and the Prohibitionists who are so keenly desirous for a new party, will find that their cause will not be advanced by that kind of manoeuvering. Inasmuch as Mr. Lawrence has once been a Democratic candidate for the same office, he may possibly be endorsed by the Rock county Democrats, not for his temperance principles, but because they hope to swell the vote against Dr. Lord. The election will prove, however, that all the friends of temperance in Rock county will not be seduced to engage in this scheme.

The result of the star route trial will surprise, and even disgust, the country. The principal conspirators in the gigantic scheme to swindle the government—those who had the lion's share of the spoils—have virtually been acquitted, while two or three assistants, with less money than their chiefs, have been found guilty. The jury was unable to agree as to Brady and Dorsey, two or three of the jurymen firmly holding that they were not guilty. This is one of the most astonishing verdicts the country has had for a long time. It shows that there had been some money influence at work somewhere. There was no question, and there could possibly be no question, as to the guilt of Brady and Dorsey. They were successful in their bold enterprise to rob the government, and the evidence against them was so direct and overwhelming, that Ingersoll, their leading counsel, became disgusted with the revelation, and declared that when the case was closed, he would have nothing more to do with the law. He got on the wrong side, but found that out when it was too late to withdraw from the case. It is more than likely that the case will not be retried.

Common sense seems to have taken hold of some of Pennsylvania Republicans of both factions at the eleventh hour. They have at last concluded that it would be better to have both candidates withdrawn from the contest and a Republican put in nomination on whom all the members of the party could unite. After considerable delay and much canvassing done by both sides, the fact has been brought out that it is almost impossible for either Beaver or Stewart to be elected. For some time the chances appeared to be in favor of General Beaver, but as time passed and the work of Cameron was made manifest, one Republican paper here and another there, dropped the Cameron ticket and raised the Independent ticket, until at last it became certain that Cameron dictation and two Republican tickets in the field would result in a victory for the Democratic party.

It hoped that both Beaver and Stewart will wisely decide to promptly withdraw from the contest, that a Republican may be nominated who will challenge the confidence and gain the united support of the Republican party of Pennsylvania. The good of the party demands that they should do this.

WHAT MR. PRATT SAYS.

To the Editor.

EVANSVILLE, Wis., Sept. 9, 1882.

In this week's Weekly Gazette there is a communication from Senator Richardson, that I wish to notice. Speaking of the second Senatorial contest of 1881, he say: "At the same council it was decided that the delegation should give its support to the Hon. Angus Cameron, etc." And again: "This advice of Mr. Williams' friends was acted on in perfect good faith by three members of the delegation, etc." The italics are mine. I submit that the logical inference from the last quotation that the fourth member of the delegation did not act in "perfect good faith." As I was that fourth member, I wish to call attention to the above quotations.

In one it will be noticed the council "decided," and in the other the council "advised." The last is correct. The council was called for constitution, and each member of the Rock county delegation left the council, as free to act according to his own judgment, as he entered it; therefore, there was no breach of "perfect good faith" in the support I afterwards gave Mr. Williams.

Desiring to be sure my recollection of the matter is correct, I have consulted with one of the gentlemen present. His recollection of the matter agrees with the above. M. V. PRATT.

MAINE.

The Republicans Carry the State by 7,000 Majority.

Republican Gains in the Legislature.

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—A special from Portland says: Robie is elected by 7,500 plurality. The Republican congressional ticket is carried by about the same vote.

PORTLAND, Sept. 12.—Two hundred and nine towns give Robie 46,420; Plaisted, 38,685; Chase, 653; Vinton, 102; scattering, 162; against in 1880, Davis, 47,025; Plaisted, 44,593; Foy, 191; Nye, 220; scattering, 64; Robie's plurality, 7,744; against 2,432; Republican gain, 5,312. The towns to be heard from are, in 1880, Davis, 26,510; Plaisted, 20,177; Soy, 20; Nye, 187; scattering, 8. If the Republicans gain those towns in the same ratio as the vote received; the total vote will stand: Robie, 72,633; Plaisted, 63,824; scattering, 1,561; aggregate, 138,108, against in 1880, 147,819. Robie's plurality will be 8,759. Of the scattering votes 850 in Chase, straight Greenbacker, should have about 1,000, and Vinton, Independent Republican, about 300. The Republican congressmen are all four elected by nearly the same plurality—a gain of two congressmen, or a net gain of one, allowing for one lost by the new apportionment. The congressional returns are very meager, but all show the vote has been but little out. They were all elected on the general ticket instead of by districts. Reed and Dingley will have a few more votes than Robie. Bonzelle and Milliken fall about one per cent. from the governor's vote. Cumberland county has gone Republican, probably electing the whole county ticket. Reports from other county seats demonstrate that the legislature is overwhelmingly Republican, insuring Senator Frye's election.

Portland vote (official), excepting the island vote not received: Robie, Republican, 3,277; Plaisted, Fusion, 3,019; Chase, Greenback, 27; Vinton, Independent Republican, 25; scattering, 7. Robie's plurality 278, against 224 in 1880.

SKOWHEGAN.

SKOWHEGAN, Me., Sept. 12.—The Republicans have elected the whole county ticket except sheriff.

WATERVILLE.

WATERVILLE, Me., Sept. 12.—All the back towns in this vicinity give Republican gains, and seem to point to the election of Robie and all the Republican congressmen by a plurality varying from 1,700 to 6,000. The legislature is conceded to be largely Republican.

BELFAST.

BELFAST, Me., Sept. 12.—Returns from seventeen out of twenty-six towns in Waldo county indicate about 700 majority for the fusion county ticket. The republican gain from 1880 is about 300.

ELLSWORTH.

ELLSWORTH, Me., Sept. 12.—The indications are that Hancock county will give the Republicans 300 over the last election. The whole county ticket and eight of the nine representatives are elected. The vote for congressman is substantially the same as for governor. Eleven towns in Hancock county give a Republican plurality of 623—a Republican gain of 244.

NORWAY.

NORWAY, Me., Sept. 12.—Nearly all the towns in Oxford county heard from give large Republican gains. The whole Republican ticket is probably elected. The indications are that Robie will be elected by 10,000 plurality.

CALAIS.

CALAIS, Me., Sept. 12.—The Republicans claim Washington county by 800 majority. They also claim to have elected the full county ticket.

LEWISTON.

LEWISTON, Me., Sept. 12.—Androscoggin county complete gives Robie 4,679; Plaisted, 4,187; Chase, 47; Vinton, 9; Eustis, 72; Robie's plurality, 492; Republican plurality in 1880, 311. The majority for the Republican congressmen is about 600, except Dingley, who has about 700. William D. Hounell and William D. Read, Republicans, were elected senators by about 400 majority, and the whole Republican county ticket by the same majority.

THE LEGISLATURE.

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—A special from Portland says the senate will be 27 Republicans and 2 opposition, a Republican gain of four; and the house 97 Republicans and 54 opposition, a gain of 14.

SONS OF COLUMBIA,

And Their Novel Scheme to Cheapen Transportation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—There is considerable excitement among Hudson river steamboat people over a new line that has recently been placed on the river by a secret order known as the Sons of Columbia. One steamer is already running, although it has met with considerable opposition. Passengers are carried from New York to Yonkers for five cents, and to Poughkeepsie for ten cents, while freight rates are proportionately low. Return fares are the same. Music is furnished into the bargain. Within ten days boats will be running to and from Albany, the fare between this city and that point to be ten cents each way. Freight will be reduced to $1 a ton. The present fare by boat is $1.75 and by rail $3.10. If these experiments this fall prove successful, the projectors will, as soon as navigation closes, organize two more such systems, one a line of steamboats to ply on the Mississippi river from New Orleans to its head of navigation, the other from Buffalo to the upper lakes. The rates of fare and freights to be charged upon them will be a percentage upon the present charges.

The West Bend Deadlock.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 12.—The Democratic convention at West Bend has advanced to 1,250 ballots. The Delaney faction indicates a willingness to take up a third candidate, but the Bragg men persistently adhere to their first choice. Delaney's followers are not willing to vote for Bragg, and fifteen votes being necessary for nomination, yesterday closed with the situation unchanged. It is believed that today will end the deadlock by Bragg's nomination.

Destructive Storms.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The Atlantic seaboard was visited by a heavy storm yesterday, in some places accompanied by a driving rain. The James river is out of its banks, carrying off railroad bridges, and causing great damage. The injuries to crops by Saturday and Sunday's storm in the south are very severe, a loss estimated at thousands of dollars being the result.

Decease of a Millionaire Milwaukean.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 12.—William H. Jacobs, cashier of the Second ward savings bank of this city, died here yesterday, after suffering for a long time from a severe liver and kidney trouble, and since last spring being confined to his bed. He leaves an estate valued at several millions of dollars.

Yellow Fever.

The board of health at Pensacola reports twenty new cases of yellow fever and two deaths yesterday, and the relief committee states that there is a great need of money. Six nurses are on the way from New Orleans. There were no deaths at Brownsville, but forty-eight persons were stricken.

The Wheat Market in London Glutted.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The Mark Lane Express, in its review of the grain trade for the past week, says:

"Probably no great damage to wheat has been caused hitherto by the weather, but it may be safely assumed, however, that wheat will be discolored. The markets continue to decline, the condition of new wheat being such as to compel quick sales. Prices have declined about three shillings. New flour is also cheaper, malting barleys firm, grinding sorts cheaper, oats, beans and peat unchanged. Foreign wheats in London are completely demoralized, and only retail sales are made. The market is beginning to get glutted for all positions, granary stocks being very heavy. At the ports the discharge of arrivals during the week was very liberal. The cargo trade is rather surfeited with the supply. Buyers are awaiting lower rates. Twenty-six fresh wheat cargoes arrived. There were sixteen sales, twenty withdrawn, and twelve remain, including ten of red. The sales of English wheat the past week were 42,243 quarters at 51 shillings and 9 pence, against 83,389 quarters at 54 shilling and 5d for the same time last year."

A DROP.

Great Excitement on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Corn Falls Six Cents a Bushel, and Pork Nearly a Dollar a Barrel.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—"Any failures to-day?"

"Haven't heard of any. It's rather remarkable, too, in a market like to-day's."

The foregoing question was asked yesterday of a dozen people on the board, and this reply, or something like it was made in pretty nearly every instance. Excepting about the wheat pit, where the trading was apparently uneventful, the whole market was in a state of great excitement. The transactions were enormous. Prices moved down hill so rapidly as to frighted even the "bears." Rumors were thick and alarming. What wonder that there were numerous and nervous inquiries for failures, when a glance at the black board last night showed that corn for September delivery had tumbled in the day over 8 cents per bushel, and that the other options had dropped from 2½ cents to 1¼ cents per bushel; that pork had dropped nearly $1 per barrel, and lard 35c per 100, or over $1 per tierce. There was some show of resistance made by the firms who have been on the "bull" side of corn. Messrs. McCormack, Adams & Co., and Dwight & Gillette were buying for November all day long, sometimes in 25,000 and 50,000 bushel lots. They made no impression, however, upon the market. The offerings were overwhelming. On the "call" there was such a rush to sell that the calling had to be stopped a dozen times to get things straightened out. In the provision crowd there seemed to be no "bulls." There were purchasers, of course, but they were operators who had sold, and who, satisfied with their profit, were taking in the property to clear up the transaction.

The sales on the "call," which lasted for one hour and twenty minutes, were 1,545,000 bushels of corn, 645,000 bushels of wheat, 745,000 bushels of oats, 25,250 barrels of pork and 23,500 tierces of lard.

"The market," said Mr. B. P. Hutchinson, "is oversold more than it has been for three years. There is not an article on the blackboard that has not been contracted for three or four times over, and the market is as likely as not to turn out 'cornered' when the sellers begin to try to get back the stuff."

"The condition of the market is explained," said Peter McGeoch, "by the fact that the breaking of contracts has become so common here that rich men are afraid to take hold of property to 'hold' it. Corn was too high when it was selling for 80 cents a bushel. I should be very much afraid to go 'short' of November or October corn though, now."

The Egyptian Situation.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—It has now been ascertained that the attack of the Egyptian forces on the English Saturday morning was a surprise to the latter. Wolseley's delay in making an advance movement gives rise to the belief that some military stumbling block intervenes. Lord Dufferin's dissatisfaction at the Sultan's proclamation of Arabi as a rebel was caused by his reading an imperfect French translation of the document. It is believed Earl Granville will decline the porte's proposal to have the Turkish troops land at Port Said. It is asserted the English could easily have captured Arabi's position Saturday if they had followed up their advantage.

Caught by a Trap Set for Thieves.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Sept. 11.—At Leono, Ark., Saturday, Postmaster Winstead met with a terrible accident. In order to protect his goods from thieves he had been in the habit of placing a loaded double-barreled shotgun in his store in such a way as to cover any one entering. After setting the gun it seems the doctor had occasion to enter the store. In his endeavor he discharged the gun, the whole load passing through his body, killing him instantly. He never spoke, so that it was never exactly found out how the accident occurred.

South Carolina Republicans.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 12.—Delegates to the state Republican convention, which meets here to-day are rapidly arriving. The membership, which consist of 125 delegates, will be made up of the most prominent whites and colored Republicans in South Carolina. The main issue to be decided is whether the convention shall indorse the Greenback ticket. With regard to this question the members seem to be very reticent. The executive committee are sitting with closed doors mapping out to-day's work. The meeting promises to be a lively one.

A Cotton Crisis.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—A correspondent writes to the Manchester Guardian that something like a crisis in the cotton trade at Oldham is beginning to be felt. The week's stoppage for the recent holidays should have been the rule, not the exception. Short time will soon be almost compulsory, unless there is an unexpected change for the better.

Egypt's Losses.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 12.—A prominent financier states that Egypt will lose nearly £70,000,000 by the war. The cotton crop, which is entirely lost, would have been worth £40,000,000. There is little hope of saving any of the sugar crop. If the country is not in a settled condition within two months it will be too late for the sowing of next year's cereals. Several large failures are anticipated shortly.

Damages for Carter.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Charles S. Carter, of Brooklyn, received $17,000 from the Lake Shore road for injuries received in the Ashtabula disaster, and kept intoxicated for four years, when he shuffled off this mortal coil. Now his widow sues a saloon-keeper for $25,000 for causing Carter to become a drunkard.

Three Murdered.

SANTA FE, Sept. 12.—George Nesbitt, residing in Donna Anna county, New Mexico, started in a wagon for Las Cruces, with his wife and two other ladies, all of whom he murdered while on the journey.

Cholera.

MADRID, Sept. 12.—One hundred and three deaths from cholera at Manila Sunday.

Two hundred and thirty-seven deaths were reported in the provinces.

The Weather.

Fair weather, northerly, veering to easterly or south winds, predicted for this region to-day.

The Old Story.

Special to the Gazette.

WEST BEND, Sept. 12.—At noon to-day 1,300 ballots had been taken, with no change.

FROM CHICAGO TO CHIHUAHUA.

Departure of Prominent Citizens to Witness the Ceremonies of Independence Day, and the Opening of the New Railroad.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—A party of prominent gentlemen left the city yesterday by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road for Chihuahua, Mex., at the invitation of the government of that country, to take part in the opening ceremonies of an eight-days carnival to be held there in celebration of the anniversary of national independence. Part of the programme, and that in which the gentlemen from this city are interested, is the opening for general traffic of 200 miles of the Mexican Central railroad between the northern terminus at El Paso Del Norte and Chihuahua City. The railway is to run to Mexico City, and when completed will be 1,200 miles long. It is being constructed at the rate of two miles per day at both ends, the 200 miles mentioned above being already completed and ready for use. The party consisted of S. A. Kent, A. B. Pullman, A. H. Sellers, A. A. Carpenter, Franklin McVeagh, N. K. Fairbank, P. D. Armour, H. T. Crane, L. Z. Leiter, Mr. Matteson of The Times, J. E. Wilkie of the Tribune, Mr. Busby of the Inter-Ocean, and W. K. Sullivan of the Journal, from Chicago, and Theodore Nickerson, Thomas Dana and Sterne Morse, directors of the Michigan Central railroad, from Boston. They had placed at their disposal, by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy company, Mr. Peaber's private car and the Pullman palace car La Junta. On reaching Kansas City a commissary car of the Mexican Government will be added, and the party will proceed thence by special train to their destination, which they expect to reach on Friday. They will be gone about ten days.

HUBBELL'S FALL.

An Interview With the Man Who Was Nominated in His Place.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Hon. Edward Breiting, the new Republican nominee in Jay Hubbell's place for the upper Michigan peninsula, said, at the Tremont:

"There was no visible opposition to me in the convention. There had been several other candidates, and of course they had some supporters, but as I had a great majority of delegates, they made no fight, and I was nominated by acclamation."

"Had Mr. Hubbell made no contest for the nomination?"

"He had in the earlier stages, but he saw there was no chance for him—in fact, his manager was the man who placed me in nomination in the convention. Mr. Hubbell never was popular with the masses in our district, and I don't think he ever represented the voice of the people, though he had the politicians always on his side."

"Is he still a candidate for the senate?"

"I believe so, and very foolishly; for he has no earthly show, in my judgment."

"Will the Democrats make a nomination against you?"

"I cannot say as yet. Some of their leading men have told me such was not the intention. I would prefer being elected without opposition; it would make me more the representative of the whole people, and as a new member would enable me, perhaps to accomplish more for the interests of the district. Still, as the district is largely republican, it would make no practical difference. We want river and harbor improvements, and are naturally opposed to change in the tariff. We must have protection for our industries."

Mr. Breiting is a wealthy ironmonger in upper Michigan, and has been a resident of Marquette county for twenty-eight years.

PETROLEUM.

Complete Exhaustion in the Cherry Grove District.

OIL CITY, Pa., Sept. 12.—The oil country is greatly excited over the phenomenal decline in the production of wells in the Cherry Grove district, which has no parallel in the history of the trade. In many portions of that recently prolific district wells have ceased flowing completely, and in all others the decline is very noticeable. At first it was supposed the influx of salt-water caused the decline, but now it is known to be a clear case of exhaustion of resource. Both oil and gas have disappeared and refused to return. The field is exhausted. A sudden decline in that field was anticipated, but the decline has come sooner than was expected. The oil-producing rock is only about four feet thick, and seems to be completely drained. The oil country people are jubilant, because this sudden decline in production means greatly enhanced prices for oil. The market has been very firm and advancing to-day.

Liquor-Dealers Organizing for the New York Campaign.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The association of Liquor-dealers known as "Union for Rights," is preparing for a state convention to organize for the coming campaign. They advocate a modification of the present excise law and its application to all parts of the state alike. They got a bill through the assembly last year which met their views, but by some means what is known as the Sprague bill got the precedence and passed both houses. However, it did not get signed by the governor. This year the liquor dealers propose to put up a platform and interrogate all candidates before indorsing them. There was a meeting at the office of Jacob Froume yesterday, and a large number of dealers from different parts of the state signified their acceptance of the plan.

Obituary.

The death list of the day contains the names of Rev. Chandler Robbins, D. D., who succeeded Ralph Waldo Emerson in the pulpit of the Second Unitarian church of Boston; Isaac Murphy, of Arkansas, who alone cast his vote in the legislature against secession, and was elected governor after the war; Colonel Wm. H. Jacobs, of Milwaukee, owner of the Second Ward bank, who left several millions, and Erasmus B. Owsley, a leading packer of Louisville.

The Pennsylvania Conference.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—The conference of stalwart Republicans announced to be held in the office of John Smith was attended by five political leaders, and resulted only in an informal talk. Gov. Hoyt and M. S. Quay both favor the withdrawal of Beaver, and were the planners of this meeting. It is said that Beaver will not stop down, and that Don Cameron will not permit him to do so.

A Captured Steamer.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 12.—The steamer Peninah, which was seized by the United States marshal at Bismarck for selling liquor while lying on an Indian reservation, and was stolen away by the former crew, ran the gauntlet of four forts, but was brought to at Fort Pierre by leveling Winchester rifles at the pilot. She will now be tied up securely until the next term of the federal court.

The Georgia Senatorship.

ATLANTA, Sept. 12.—A large number of leading Georgians have petitioned Governor Colquitt to appoint Ben. H. Hill, Jr., to fill the unexpired term of his father in the senate, and it is probable that the movement will succeed. The governor and the chief justice are candidates for the full term.

A Bad Year for Fires.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Thus far 1882 has been an extraordinary year for fires. The estimated losses in the United States for the eight months foot up more than $61,000,000, or $7,000,000 more than the average for four years.

Joseph Durrinluger, Broadway, Buffalo was induced by his brother to try THOMAS' ELECTRIC OIL for a sprained ankle; and with half a dozen applications he was enabled to walk round again all right. Sold by Palmer & Stevens and F. Sherer & Co

THE STAR ROUTERS.

The Jury Bring In a Partial Verdict, Which Is Accepted.

Miner and Rerdell Found Guilty, and Turner and Peck Acquitted.

No Agreement Regarding Brady, Dorsey and the Other Defendants.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 11.—The jury in the star-route cases came in at 10 o'clock, and reported their agreement upon four men and disagreement on the others. Mr. Ingersoll, counsel for the defendants, protested against the barbarism of attempting to starve the jury into a verdict, saying privation was not evidence. The judge said he did not intend to starve the jury, but simply to deprive them of a few luxuries. That public curiosity in the result of the star route trial has not abated, was manifested by the large crowd which thronged the court-room. Messrs. Miner, Rerdell, Turner, Vaile and J. W. Dorsey were in attendance, and, the judge having taken his seat, the session of Friday closed and the session of Monday was entered upon.

The jury entered, looking fatigued and generally worn out. In answer to the question of the clerk as to whether they had agreed upon a verdict, Foreman Dickson said: "We report that the jury stand the same as they did when the report was made on Saturday last. We have decided as to four of the defendants, and are not able to agree as to the others."

Mr. Ingersoll requested the court to inquire whether there was any prospect of the jury reaching a conclusion. This the court refused to do, stating that was a matter about which the jury might differ. He was not willing to discharge them yet. He was unwilling to enforce the barbarism of the law by starving the jury; they could have water to drink, food to eat, and a place to rest.

Foreman Dickson—The jury have just requested me, if proper, to present briefly my personal views as to an agreement.

The Court—The court cannot receive that. If the jury are still in darkness as to any question of law, the court will with pleasure try to enlighten them.

Foreman Dickson—We have fully discussed every point presented by your honor as to the law of conspiracy and the facts presented by evidence.

Juror McNally—I am firm in my conviction, and nothing can alter it.

The Court—None of you are authorized to make a statement now. After dissension comes deliberation. You have announced to the court that you have discussed the whole case. I have no doubt you have been deliberating, but you have not reached a conclusion as to the whole case. It is in the power of the court to accept such a verdict as you are prepared to render now, but the importance of the issue, the great amount of labor, money, time and care expended in the trial of this cause, renders it very important that, if possible, you should render a complete verdict as to all the defendants. I do not wish to give you binding instructions, even as to that. I will try you once more.

Foreman Dickson (resignedly)—We obey with respectful submission to the court.

The court stated he did not wish to be understood by his last remark as promising to discharge the jury at 2 o'clock, to which hour a recess was taken.

At 2:05 the jury entered, and through their foreman reported that they were unable to agree. The court stated that it had come to the conclusion to accept a partial verdict.

The roll of defendants was called and all answered "here."

The jury then rendered a verdict of acquittal as to Turner and Peck, and of guilty as to Miner and Rerdell. As to the others they were unable to agree.

On the objection of Mr. Merrick, that Peck had not been arraigned, and consequently could not be included in the verdict, the foreman repeated the report to the others, but left out the name of Peck.

The jury was then discharged, and Henkle and Williams, for Miner and Rerdell respectively, gave notice of a motion in arrest of judgment and for a new trial.

After an angry passage between Messrs. Ingersoll and Merrick, and earnest statements on both sides of an intent to probe the alleged attempt at bribery to the bottom, the court adjourned until Wednesday, when arguments on the motion in arrest of judgment will be heard.

One of the jurors gives the following information as to the result of the balloting on first ballot as to all defendants: With the exception of Turner, the vote stood: For conviction, 10; for acquittal, 2. The vote as to G. W. Dorsey stood: For conviction, 9; for acquittal, 3. The vote as to J. W. Dorsey stood: For conviction, 10; for acquittal, 2. The vote as to Vaile stood: For conviction, 11; for acquittal, 1.

When the jury first met for deliberation, Dickson, the foreman, informed the jury that he had a statement to make, and, taking up a Bible from the table, he swore that the statement he was going to make was true. He then proceeded to read in detail a statement the substance of, which, he has given to the Associated press—that an officer named Bowen approached him on behalf of the department of justice and offered him a bribe. Dickson made this same statement to Judge Wylie told him in substance: "The idea of any one having approached you on the part of the government is an absurdity, and if any one has approached you, pretending to be in the interest of the government, it was probably some one with hidden designs, acting in behalf of the defense." When the matter was spoken of in open court, it was suggested that the jurors could communicate to each other any information they had in respect to improper proposals made to them. The government and the defense were willing that this should be done but Judge Wylie said that it could not to be allowed, and he specifically directed the jury not to do so. Nevertheless, the foreman, Dickson, after having been thus instructed under such circumstances, made it his business to make that very statement to the jury. This circumstance, of course, stimulated to a degree the acrimonious comment with respect to the conduct of the jury.

A King's Nap.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Louis, the handsome but eccentric young king of Bavaria, cannot, as is well known, endure to attend a play or opera unless he alone constitutes the entire audience. A short time ago he was indulging this strange taste at the Court theatre, Munich, when he fell asleep in the midst of the play. Here was a dilemma. The play could not go on with the audience asleep; and nobody dared rouse him; nor dared the actors for a moment to leave their places, for fear of his displeasure, should he chance to awaken suddenly. One impatient actor threw a chair across the stage with a crash, and an actor repeated several lines of his part in stentorian tones; but still the king slept on. Thus everything was at a standstill for several hours, until, next morning, the king awoke, and the wearied actors finished the play just in time for breakfast.

Gen. Sherman a Presidential Candidate.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Gen. Sherman will not avail himself of the full extent of the act of congress prolonging the period of his active service, but will voluntarily retire nearly a year in advance of his 64th birthday. This extension was not asked for by Gen. Sherman himself. It was granted principally at the solicitation of staff officers who, when the general retires will go back to their regiments and proper rank. Gen. Sherman will close out his property in Washington and go to St. Louis.

Gen. Sherman's movements are said to be part of a plan for bringing him out as a presidential candidate. If this be so, his action could not have been better taken, both as to time and location. Washington is the last place for a candidate to start from. St. Louis is far better. Gen. Sherman has been identified with the Republican organization, but has never taken an active part in politics. Whenever he has voted, it is understood that it was for Republican candidates.

PERSONAL POLITICS.

The Canvass is Warming Up in East Tennessee.

Speech of Congressman Houk at Knoxville.

KNOXVILLE, Sept. 11.—The Knoxville Tribune furnishes a report of a speech here, by Congressman Houk, of which the following is a portion: "I began the campaign at Maryville with a decent speech. [Applause.] It was a moral speech. [Applause.] It would have done to deliver in a Sunday school,—[applause]—a Methodist conference,—[applause]—a Presbyterian synod,—[applause.]—or a Baptist association. [Applause.] But Rule followed with his dirty, filthy, vilifying piece, and now I mean to fight the devil with fire. [Applause.] But Mr. Rule is trying to come the morality dodge over me. [Applause.] Oh, he is so good. [Applause.] So good that I I wonder that he remains on this mundane sphere. [Applause.] So good that it is a wonder that he has not, like old Elijah, gone up in a chariot of fire. [Applause.] And he will go up on the second day of next November. [Applause.] But let us see how good he is. An attempt was made some time ago to reorganize a certain church in this city for the purpose of defeating me for congress; and defeating Rule. [Hurrah for Rule.] [Hurrah for Houk.] It was the Methodist church, the next I belong to. [Derisive jeers.] [Hurrah for Houk.] And the one Rule belongs to—[hurrah for Rule]—and I am in good standing, too,—[applause and jeers]—though if the discipline was strictly enforced the Lord knows where Rule and me would both be,—[applause]—but you see I always pay the preacher—[hurrah for Houk]—and my methodist brethren always vote for me. [Applause.] But Rule accuses me of drunkenness,—[hurrah for Houk]

but I can prove by him that I have been sober for two weeks. [Applause.] I can say that if I had it in my power I would destroy the art of making alcohol. It is a bad thing. It gets away with a fellow sometimes. [Applause.] I know it by experience—[hurrah for Houk]—and also does Rule. [Hurrah for Rule.] I acknowledge that I have sometimes taken a little too much when tired and weary. [Hurrah for Houk.] But Rule drinks more whisky than I do. [Hurrah for Rule.] He is an every-day, constant drinker. [Applause.] He guzzles it all the time. [Applause.] I only occasionally get too much. [Hurrah for Houk.] ["I have heard it sometimes hasts a month," said a voice in the crowd.] That depends upon the kind of whisky, my friend. [Great applause.] I never drank until my health was destroyed in the war, and then I was advised by my physician to do it—[applause]—and sometimes I think the medicine is worse for me than the disease. [Applause.] Twelve years ago I resolved never to enter a barroom, and I have never violated that pledge. [A prolonged whistle from some one in the crowd.] But Rule walks right up to the bar and drinks his whisky and guzzles his beer right over the counter like a common drunkard. [Applause.] Rule says that I was drunk in Nashville during the senatorial contest. [Hurrah for Houk.] It is a lie, but Rule was drunk himself. [Applause.] I know it and Arch Hughes knows it. [Applause.] If Arch Hughes will write a letter stating that Mr. Rule was not drunk in Nashville then I will abandon the canvass, go home, and vote for Rule. [Applause.] I say I saw him drunk. [Hurrah for Rule.] I saw him leaning helplessly up against a house with a mutilated cigar stump in his mouth. [Applause.] And he was so drunk that he put the lighted end of the cigar stump in his mouth and burnt his tongue—[prolonged applause]—and the scar is there yet. [Applause.] If the scar is not on his tongue I will agree to abandon the race for congress." [Hurrah for Houk.]

The Baltimore Oriole Festival.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 12.—The second annual Oriole festival of Baltimore begins to-day, the anniversary of the battle of North Point, and continues for three days. To-day a grand military display will take place in which from 5,000 to 7,000 men will be in line, including the visiting military; 1,000 men of the Grand Army of the Republic and thirty fire companies. On Wednesday a procession of 100 tugboats and steamers, beautifully decorated with flags and streamers, will proceed down the river, and between Forts McHenry and Carroll will meet the steamer conveying Lord Baltimore and suite and escort them to the city. On the night of Thursday, the 14th, the grand spectacular procession will consist of thirty-eight tableaux, mounted on floats.

Iron Mills Resuming Work.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 12.—Two more iron mills here resumed work yesterday, and were surrounded all day by angry union men. John Rielly, a striker who went back to duty, will be hanged to-day in effigy. Brown, Bonnell & Co., of Youngstown, Ohio, will open up to-day with non-union men.

The Garfield Family.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 12.—Mrs. Garfield and her family have moved from Mentor to Cleveland for the winter.

Unworthy Influence.

Many persons are prejudiced against proprietary medicines. They do not know why. Many narrow-minded doctors condemn them without knowing or caring to know in the least about them—solely through principle and self-interest. These are mostly young and inexperienced in practice. "Prejudice is strong where the judgment is weak." Many physicians, with better and more liberal ideas and education, endorse those remedies which they find most efficacious for the diseases for which they are recommended. One of these, strongly endorsed, and coming into popular use, for the Liver and Dyspepsia, is ZOPESA. 8 oz. bottles 75c, 6 dr. 10c. Sold by Prentice & Evenson.

THE FORD BOYS.

Their Own Story of the Killing of Jesse James.

Details of the Tragedy Hitherto Unpublished.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 12.—The Enquirer has interviwed the Ford boys with the following result:

"Do you know," said Bob, speaking of the killing, "that when we surrendered to the marshal he wouldn't believe what we said until he looked, as we directed him, between the mattresses and tick on Jesse's bed and found jewelry marked with Jesse's initials."

"It was enough to astonish anybody," said the writer. The boys then went on and described in a minute manner the way in which Jesse was removed. On the night before the 3d of April, the day of the killing, all were about to retire, when Bob had occasion to go out into the yard. They had been sitting together in Jesse's room with Mrs. James and the children. As Bob stepped out Jesse got up and followed him, keeping his eyes, however, on Charley. Jesse invited Bob to take a walk, and Bob said all right, but watched his companion's movements closely. He didn't like the looks of a large knife Jesse had been carrying in his belt that day. Charley grew suspicious, and followed along out. Jesse and Bob walked down the hill nearly to the World's hotel, Jesse looking back all the time at Charley. The two stopped, and, as Charley came up to them, Jesse began to laugh and joke. Finally he said: 'Let's go to bed, boys,' and they started back side by side, each man being afraid to be in front of the other, but not daring to let on or say so. The next morning they were all up pretty early. In bed the night before Charley and I resolved that the coming day should be Jesse James' last, said Bob, with great emphasis, as he set to toying with his revolver. Jesse and Charley went to the stable, which is to the southeast of the house, and Bob remained to straighten up his bed and sweep his room, as was his usual custom. After cleaning the horses Jesse and Charley came in and washed themselves in the kitchen, and then stepped into Jesse's room, where Bob joined them, having just come from his own room. Mrs. James was at work in the room back of the kitchen and the children were playing in front of the house. Jesse stepped up to the bureau and combed his hair, and then, turning around, said he guessed he would take off his pistols, as some of the people passing might see them. The front door was open and passers-by could look right into the room. He removed his coat and then his belt containing two pistols and a number of cartridges and threw them carelessly on the bed. He was in good humor, and, looking toward the east side of the room, remarked that Mrs. Mimms' picture needed dusting. The picture was a cabinet-size painting of the face and shoulders of Miss Nannie Mimms, of Louisville, Ky., who is a niece of Mrs. James. He picked up the duster from the bureau and got upon a chair which he had placed under the picture. Bob at this time stood leaning against the bureau and Charley was near the window on the west side of the room. As he stepped up to the chair Jesse turned his head to the right to look at Charley, and then to the left toward Bob. As he again faced the picture both of the boys drew their weapons. Jesse probably heard them cock, for he quickly turned and saw Charley with the pistol pointed at him. He was apparently about to spring, when Bob let fly, and the bullet, a 45-caliber, from a Colt's revolver, struck him in the head, and he fell. He struck on his shoulder and rolled over on his back. The boys stepped up to him, ready to fire again, but saw that one shot had been sufficient. Mrs. James, who has heard the report, came through the dining-room and Charley walked to the door and met her. She asked what the matter was, and Charley replied that the pistol had gone off and killed Jesse. She said she guessed it was on purpose, and broke out crying, and entered the room and stooped down and tried to raise up Jesse's head. 'You have killed my husband!' she cried. Bob and Charley then took their departure but not before the latter picked up Jesse's belt and pistols, which he carried away with him in his hand. They hastily proceeded to the telegraph office, and sent the following telegram to Governor Crittenden, Timberlake and Craig:

"Meet me in Kansas City to-night or to-morrow morning. I have my man.

"JESSE FORD."

Then they went up to the marshal's office to give themselves up. A policeman told them that the marshal had gone out on the hill, where a man had been shot.

"Well, we are the ones who killed him," said Bob.

"Is that so?" replied the policeman. "Who was the man?"

This was all they said, and the policeman went back with them to Jesse's house. The party waited on the outside, and the marshal came out. He had no idea who the dead man was, as Mrs. James had told him her husband's name was Howard. The Ford boys then informed the marshal that they had killed Jesse James, and the official was dumfounded. The boys told him where to find Jesse's jewelry and firearms, and he went in and got them. There were two rings marked "Jesse," and a scarf-pin marked "J. W. J." The boys were then taken to the police office, and from there to the coroner's jury, when they were held for murder. They were in jail two weeks before the trial came off. During this time they communicated with Timberlake and Craig, and were given to understand that they would soon get off. The trial lasted about an hour, and the boys were found guilty and sentenced to be hung on the 19th of May. That day the pardon came, and they were released.

As the boys finished a letter was handed to Bob. It was from a young man living on Fourth street, who wanted the autographs of the boys for his collection. "Think I'll have to oblige him," said Bob, and then he went on to tell that they were treated splendidly while in jail, although they had to be locked up in little, narrow cells at night.

Back Ache

POSITIVELY CURED BY

Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.

Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second.

Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third.

Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.

Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.

Because over 7,000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.

Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

H. A. PATTERSON, P. M.

Milton.

—A social event occurred Tuesday evening worthy of note. It was the marriage of Miss Anna S. Whitford, daughter of Prof. Albert Whitford, and C. E. Crandall. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Pres. W. C. Whitford, uncle of the bride, officiating, assisted by Rev. E. M. Dunn. In addition to the families of the high contracting parties, the following guests were present: Mrs. Potter, of Hartsville, N. R.; Rev. Wilhams and wife, Prof. N. W. Williams, Prof. W. F. Plabe and wife, Rev. E. M. Dunn and wife, and Miss Jennie C. Bond. Those from abroad were: Rev. O. U. Whitford and wife, of Walworth; Prof. H. C. Curtis and wife, of Juneau; and Mrs. Curtis, of Milwaukee. There were a large number of presents of much value, but out of deference to the wishes of the recipients we omita list of them. Among them were a silver plated pickle caster and silver plated butter dish from the class of '81 in Milton college, of which the bride was a member. The happy couple took the train Wednesday for Morgan Park, where they will reside while Mr. Crandall is completing his course in the theological seminary. Mr. and Mrs. Crandall take with them to their new home the hearty congratulations of hundreds of friends, who wish them a prosperous future of wedded bliss.

—Pencils, pens, mems, blank books, erasers, rulers, etc., at W. W. Clarke's. The only assortment in town.

—W. T. Havens, of Nashua, Iowa, was in town last week for a day or two. He is looking well and reports things lively in his section.

—The annual meetings of the stockholders and trustees of Milton college were held last Wednesday. Only routine business was transacted, and nothing of special interest to public took place, except the election of E. B. Rogers as president of the board, President Whitford declining a reelection.

—If you want a trunk or traveling bag call on "W. W." at the Postoffice.

—Hon. S. L. Lord, of Edgerton, the next Senator from Rock county, was in town Friday, receiving the congratulations of his many friends on his nomination.

—The best line of Octavo, Note, Legal cap, Congress cap, Letter, Ledger, Journal and box paper is to be found at the Postoffice book store also all sorts and sizes of envelopes.

—B. W. Millard, sold a business site last week, to a gentleman from Chicago, who will immediately begin erecting a house.

—Miss A. P. Burdick, who graduated in the class of '82 at Milton College, has accepted the position of assistant in the Menominie High school for the coming year. She goes there this week. The patrons of the school are to be congratulated on securing so competent a teacher as Miss Burdick will be.

—Rev. Dr. Williams and his youngest son, Allie, left for Alfred Centre, N. Y. on Wednesday, where the reverend gentleman will resume his position in the Theological Department, of Alfred University. Doctor Williams made many friends here, during his connection with the College and we regret that circumstances made it necessary for him to cancel his engagement here and return to Alfred Centre.

—If you want anything in the stationery, book, jewelry and fancy goods line call on W. W. Clarke at the Postoffice. He has the only well assorted stock in town to select from and it pays to trade where you can get what you want.

—J. C. Plumb attended the meeting of the Mississippi Valley Horticultural Society at Chicago last week and presented a paper "On the Effects of Soil and Climate on fruit production in Wisconsin."

—Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Crandall and Mrs. W. W. Clarke took the east-bound train, Wednesday morning, for New York State, where they will visit friends for several weeks to come.

—R. D. Smith has sold his house and lot to H. F. Clarke, of Berlin, who will move his family here about November 1st. The community will be glad to welcome Mr. Clarke and family to a home here.

—J. E. Davidson has bought the house and lot where he now lives, of Mrs. Babcock, paying $625 therefor.

—E. A. Holmes is happy. Born, September 8th; feminine gender. They now have seven, and there's luck in odd numbers.

—If there is not another wedding in town before the present week ends, you may call us a liar.

—W. W. Clarke has the best cigars in town for the money.

—Mrs. D. Williams has been quite ill for some time past, but her friends will be glad to learn that she is convalescent and able to be about.

—Philip Marquart is confined to his house with a bad attack of neuralgia in the head and eyes.

—Mrs. James P. Bullis died on Thursday night after a long illness. Deceased has been a great sufferer, and the death angel could not have been an unwelcome visitor to her. The bereaved husband and motherless boys have the hearty sympathy of all. The funeral services took place Saturday afternoon at the M. E. church. By request of the deceased, Rev. A. D. Sandborn, pastor of the Free Will Baptist church, at North Johnstown, officiated, and the choir from the same church furnished the music. There was a large attendance of friends and neighbors, and the remains were followed to their last resting place by a very large procession.

—Dr. Williams addressed the students and faculty of Milton College, last Wednesday morning just before his departure to the East. He spoke in feeling terms of his deep interest in the welfare of the institution, and counseled those present to work actively for its support. He characterized the two years in which he had been connected with it as its head, as the most pleasant part of a quarter of a century of his life spent in teaching. On coming to Milton he had obtained a leave of absence from Alfred University in New York state, for the time in which he had labored here. Now at the expiration of this leave he must return to his former position, which he still held in that school as a teacher of theology. Near the close of last term at Milton he had consented to allow his name to appear among the faculty of the college for the present year in the expectation that he could be released from his engagements at Alfred But he has since found that his services were required there, and so he should no longer remain here. He commended the old students for their faithfulness in their studies, and thanked them for their hearty cooperation with him during his administration. He referred to the present teachers of the College and the members of its Board of Trustees as a "band of noble men," who had fitted "every obligation" which they had been under to him, and carried out "to the letter" every promise made to him On bidding them good bye, he bade them God-speed.

THE ELEGANT—Little plaited scew top on "TEABERRY" makes it the cheapest, most perfect, and most Recherche of all toilet exquisites. Get a 5 cent sample. Sold by Prentice & Evenson.

Clinton.

—B. B. Olds threshed 48 bushels of barley per acre, and Mr. Loomis threshed 53.

—Walter Shumway, William Shumway and wife, of Reymond, Racine Co., visited Clinton friends last week.

—Mrs. Irwin Bowers spent the Sabbath in town.

—Coal arrives daily in large quantities and the coal bins are filling up rapidly. Price $8.00 per ton.

—It is about time to make predictions upon the character of the coming winter.

—The Janesville Mutuals will play a game of ball in Watertown next Friday and attend a dance in the evening.

—Michigan peaches are coming into market in plenty, and peaches and cream is a luxury not unknown to the girl with a beau.

—Parcels sent by express now arrive here at 1 o'clock a. m., and are delivered by seven in the morning. The new arrangement is a convenient one.

—Three more days of fair weather will suffice for the farmers, who are now busily engaged in cutting and housing tobacco. By that time it is confidently expected all the crop in the county will be in.

—While in Louisville with Col. Burr Robbins, Mr. Spencer Alexander purchased thirty-four mules, which he proposes to dispose of in this section. The animals are all large and fine specimens.

—Janesville is just now plentifully stocked with candidates. The county nominating convention will assemble tomorrow, and every man with an aspiration for office, is figuratively speaking "on pins and needles."

—The order passed by the City Council last night night ordering Mr. Peter Myers to raze his new building over the river, to the water's edge, will never be enforced. The ordinance creating the fine limits is a dead letter, rendered so by the frequent infraction of its provisions.

—A good opportunity to laugh will be afforded theatre goers to-morrow night at Myers' opera house. De Judge's minstrels, who will furnish the provocation, have been playing to good business north and west, and are receiving very complimentary press notices. Reserved seats at Prentice & Evenson's.

—The Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry., will sell excursion tickets to Milwaukee and return including exposition-ticket for 3.70—return tickets good until Monday following date of sale.—Also tickets to Chicago Exposition for 2.80—Sept., 12—13—16 to 23—26—27 Oct. 3—4—10—11—17 and 18.

—The festival of the Harvest Home will be held in Trinity church next Sunmorning. The proceeds will be given to St. John's Home in Milwaukee. The Rev. T. W. McLean, pastor of Trinity church is exerting himself in the interests of the festival, and the charity to be benefitted, and deserves the heartiest support. Donations will be welcomely received, and the gratuities could not be given in a better cause.

—Officer Ed. Smith arrested a young man named William Garry, last night, on a warrant sworn out by an old man named Edward Neugent, who claimed that Garry attempted to rob him. The prisoner appeared in the municipal court to-day and pleaded not guilty. The alleged attempted robbery occurred on Saturday night, the old man claiming that he was thrown down by Garry and would have been robbed, but for the timely appearance of Officer Smith. The examination was progressing at the time of going to press.

—There is a strong probability now that the next base ball season will open with a Northwestern League in the field. All efforts heretofore made, to establish a league in the Northwest have failed from various causes, but there is no good reason why this section cannot have and maintain a league as successfully as other sections. We have as good players as either the American Association or the regular League clubs can boast, and under proper management clubs could be found that would reflect credit on the places where they were organized. Mr. Nick Moran, of Beloit, says he will start the ball rolling by subscribing $500 to the necessary fund. Who will be next?

—The preparations for the production of Faust are progressing rapidly, and everything promises success. The gentlemen who take part in the drama have received some elegant costumes from one of the best theatrical costumers in Chicago, and the ladies, too, will be attired in the regulation dress in vogue when Mephisto purchased the soul of Faust, by the promise of riches and the possession of Marguerita. Reserved seats are now on sale at Prentice & Evenson's, and are going rapidly. The receipts from the entertainments will be devoted to a good cause, and the ladies and gentlemen connected with the affair should receive a flattering financal endorsement of their endeavors.

Rockford Races.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, will sell tickets to Rockford and return, September 10th to 15th, at $1.50 each, for county fair and races to be held there this week. Trains leave at 11 a. m. and 7:15 p. m., and run through to Rockford without change.

Young Lady Elocutionists.

Mrs. Noon's recital at Cannon's hall, last evening, was like all of that lady's entertainments, successful and pleasing. The young ladies taking part, acquitted themselves well of their respective roles, and elicited a great deal of applause from a delighted audience. The dialogue, "No Cure no Pay," given by Misses Mary Pond, Gertie Hemming, Jennie Geddes, Lettie Shortney, Flossie De Long, Ita Leech and Nellie Sullivan, proved a source of hilarious mirth, and was exceptionally well rendered for amateurs so young. The musical numbers on the programme, served as a delightful assistance to the enjoyableness of the evening. The young ladies all did well.

HYMEN'S BONDS.

Marriage of Miss Myra Bliss and Mr. Charles Bailey.

A happy event, occurred at the residence of Mr. J. S. Bliss, this forenoon, and though there were not a great many to enjoy the pleasure of participation, the selectnes of the small party added to the charm of the occasion. It was the marriage of Miss Myra Bliss to Mr. Charles Bailey of New York State, the consummation of a long cherished affection. The nuptial ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Hodge, and in a short time after the felicitations of the guests were extended, the newly wedded pair left for their Eastern home. The wedding was private, only a few very intimate friends being invited, as Miss Bliss has for some time been suffering from an indisposition. Mr. Bailey, who was so fortunate to win one of Janesville's brightest social gems, is a young gentleman of considerable property, and resides in New York state, about 80 miles from Saratoga, where he is engaged in the grocery business, besides controlling considerable landed property. Life opens for the young couple with the most roseate tints, harbingers of fair weather to come.

OBITUARY.

HARRISON STEBBINS.

In the death of Harrison Stebbins, late of Porter, Rock county has lost one of her most esteemed citizens. A Vermonter, born at Westfield, Orleans county, June 8, 1820; educated at Norwich University, he removed in 1841 to Janesville, Wisconsin Territory, with his young and amiable wife, formerly Miss Mary A. Bassett, of Montpelier, where they resided for nearly three years. Mr. Stebbins engaged in teaching and surveying. In 1844 they removed to Porter, upon the farm where the widow and only son still reside. The Stebbins home was ever a pleasant resort for friends or strangers, the genial host and hostess being equal to any social occasion. Mr. Stebbins besides attending carefully to his profession as farmer, was frequently called to fill town and county offices, and always with credit to himself and the satisfaction of the public. He had also represented his assembly district in the Legislature of the State with marked ability.

He was an honest and honorable man a kind and thoughtful neighneighbor, an intelligent and public spirited citizen, with a mind and heart for any true reform movement. Religiously, he was in sympathy with the Universalist Church. He will be greatly missed by the entire community, and more especially by the bereaved family the members of which are one son S. P. Stebbins, and two daughters, Mrs. M. Savage, of Cooksville, and Mrs. H. Wood, of Stebbinsville.

Mr. Stebbins died Sept. 7th 1882, and the funeral services were conducted on the 8th by Rev. G. W. Lawrence, of Janesville.

It is a difficult matter for him to break off the associations of years, and sever himself from the many sincere friends he has here. The Professor presided at the organ in the First Baptist church of St. Paul last Sunday. It is probable he will ere long be the regular organist, as he is strongly inclined to accept the offers made him.

CITY LEGISLATION.

The Common Council Going for Peter Myers and the Telephone Company.

The Council held the regular meeting last night, Mayor Croft in the chair, and a quorum present. The August reports of the Board of Education, Municipal Court, and City Marshal, were received. Otto Holm having resigned as a member of Washington Fire Engine Company, Edward Kelly was elected to fill the vacancy thus created.

A petition of W. B. Stewart complaining of exorbitant assessment on a piece of land, a part of which he had previously disposed of, was read and referred to the judiciary committee.

All Fire Department bills were ordered paid, under a suspension of the rules moved by Ald. Fitzgibbon.

On motion of Ald. Robinson, the city clerk was authorized to levy a special tax of $10 on lot No. 45, to pay John Dewey for building a sidewalk in front of it.

A motion made by Alderman Lennartz that John Allen's bill of $21,50 for planting trees in the parks, which caused so much discussion at a previous meeting was put and lost. Dr. J. B. Whiting addressed the Council on the condition of sidewalks on East Milwaukee street, which he stated, were sadly in need of repair, the property owners having neglected them for sometime. He also spoke upon the approach to the pest house, as subject to inundation during high water and recomended that the evil be remedied. It was decided to let a contract to repair the sidewalks complained of.

Ald. Fitzgibbon reminded the Council that the wooden building being put up by Peter Myers on Milwaukee street bridge, was within the fire limits, and moved that the owner be ordered to take it down. The question excited a little debate, but the motion was carried by a vote of 4 to 2.

On motion it was ordered that all telephones on South Main street, not set in accordance with the specifications, be removed and the specifications complied with.

The ordinary busines of the council, orders, petitions, etc., was disposed of and the Mayor announced the following inspectors and clerks of election:
